MECCANO - MADE FIRST - MADE BETTER - BUILDS MOST

"I have been a Meccano Fan since I got my first set"

Jackie Coogan

JACKIE COOGAN, in his famous "Ragman" costume, snapped in the act of putting the finishing touches to a Meccano steam shovel

How the Pulley Block is assembled

HAVING a choice of all construction toys, Jackie Coogan selected Meccano, the original and "the Daddy of them all." A regular fellow is Jackie all the way through, and when he is not acting in the movies you will find him playing with Meccano. More than once he has been known to dash off between pictures to finish a Meccano model that he has designed himself.

You, too, can share in this Meccano fun. You can build towers, cranes, bridges, steam shovels and endless other models—in fact, anything you can think of—but you must have the real Meccano.

Made First—Made Better—Builds Most

Meccano has such a great variety of parts—more than 200—a part for every purpose. That's why it will build many more models than any other toy. Other toys have copied some of these parts, but only Meccano has them all. In fact, there has never been a steel construction toy that did not adopt some Meccano parts—that's how good Meccano is. But don't be fooled—get the original Meccano every time.

With every Meccano outfit is included a big book full of pictures of models. There is nothing further to buy and the fun begins as soon as you open your set. Yes, Jackie is enthusiastic about Meccano and you fellows will be, too, when you get your outfit. Ask Dad to give you Meccano and then—Oh, Boy!
